The Atlanta-area consultation

A source note on John Wingo’s April 2024 correspondence

On April 10, 2024, John Wingo wrote twice to attorney Erica Wilson after an in-person consultation arranged in Tucker, Georgia. His second email identifies the recording he sent.

MARCH 20

Wilson acknowledges the referral

In an email headed “Consultation request,” Wilson wrote that she had received the request through Dr. Richey.

MARCH 25

An in-person appointment in Tucker

A legal assistant’s email, “Consultation with Attorney,” scheduled the meeting for April 10 at 10 a.m. Airline confirmations for the trip show a Denver-to-Atlanta booking for April 9 and a return booking for April 11.

APRIL 10 · 3:18 PM

John follows up with Wilson

“Thank you for meeting with us today.” John’s follow-up addressed the recorded exchange and his search for help with the case.

APRIL 10 · 6:42 PM

John sends the link and names the proceeding

In a second message to Wilson, John labeled the link “Direct Dropbox Link Containing Audio (Ex Parte Motion to Withdraw October 13, 2023).”

What the correspondence establishes

The dated emails document a private disclosure to Wilson. They leave open who listened, whether anyone forwarded the recording, and whether anyone working on the Georgia cases heard about it.